Now that the speed limit on the highways has been cut to 35 miles an hour, we wonder what those unpatriotic drivers who have been exceeding the legal 55 mile law are going to do. Whether or not we are as short of rubber as we are told may be a point for argument, but we should all be smart enough to realize that we are too short to burn it off on the pavement. The fact that the men in high places argue over the synthetic rubber question does not in the least lessen our obligation tc country and if we are asked to slow down and save rubber, by all means let us cooperate to that extent. Two wrongs cannot make a right.

Your chamber of commerce directors are still holding forth an invitation to meet with them any Friday afternoon at 3:30 to discuss anything which might prove of community benefit. Instead of feeling depressed by what the coming winter may hold why can't we get together and figure out something to brighten the prospect. It can't hurt to try.

If you want to vote at the general election on November 3 you must be properly registered by September 24. Better check up today and find out if you are eligible to vote. There are some 18 important issues to be determined as well as a number of important offices to fill at the polls November 3.

Response to the appeal for more scrap materials to be contributed to the war effort have not been as big as anticipated. It may that we were wrong in assuming that tons still remained to be collected in this area. We are sure, however, that many of you still have scrap that you don't need but just haven't bothered to get it collected and turned in. If we are correct about this, why not take just a little time out right now, get it together and call Mr. Edmunds at 150. Every bit will be appreciated.

150,000 Rainbow Being Planted In Truckee By State

Tank Raised Trout From Tallac Are Being Put in River

One hundred and fifty thousand rainbow trout averaging more than four inches in length and all in perfect condition after several months in the special rearing tanks at the State Fish and Game hatchery at Tallac, will be planted in the Truckee rive between now and October 1.

This was revealed this week by J. C. Lewis, superintendent of the Lake Tahoe hatcheries, who will be in charge of the planting. The fish will be placed between the mouth of Donner Creek and the mouth of Prosser Creek, Lewis said.

The planting will more than offset an anticipated loss this year by not following the usual practice of raising fry in the tanks of the San Francisco Flycasting Club, Lewis believes, in calling attention to the fine stock and their excellent condition and size.

All of the rainbow to be planted are last January's hatch. They have been cared for and fed at the Tallac tanks under the direction of expert ichthyologists. They are a new strain developed by Lewis' son, who is in charge of the Warm Springs state hatcheries. They spawn in two years while the ordinary rainbow takes at least three years to spawn.

Augmented by Fry

..Several hundred thousand fry from the Bear Valley distribution base and principally from the Mt. Shasta hatcheries, have been planted in the river and tributaries and nearby lakes and tributaries by the state commission this year. All streams are fully stocked.

The trout being planted are transported under the most favorable conditions and the loss is very small. All cans used are kept filled with compressed air from the time they leave the tanks until they are freed in the river, Lewis said.

The pictures were filmed and narrated by Father Bernard Hubbard, who is familiar with the great Alaska area.

Particularly interesting was the salmon harvest. The pictures took the Lions through the mysterious life of the salmon and ended with a visit to one of the giant canneries which, in Alaska occupy 21,000 men during a normal season.

C. Edmunds was program chairman and Elden Tonini presided. Guests were Jack Langille of Las Vegas, Frank Fowden of Truckee and Ambrose.

Ratcliff, who had previously served time in Santa Barbara on an assault charge, was on five year's probation from San Quentin on a statutory charge and was serving one of the five years in the county camp.

He is a native of Texas and had no draft card, probably due to the fact that he was in custody at the time he should have registered.

Fire Wipes Out Local Home; To Be Investigated

Mystery Blaze Near Here As Dog Saves Only Occupant

Officers this week were investigating the fire which Tuesday morning before daylight completely destroyed the summer home of Dr. and Mrs. Stuart C. Way, on the Truckee-Tahoe highway five miles south of here.

Mrs. Way, the only occupant of the fine six-room modern structure, was saved from possible death by the insistent barking of her pet dog, who woke her between 5 and 6 o'clock after the flames had completely enveloped the house.

Slipping on a coat, Mrs. Way ran through the flames and carrying the frantic dog in her arms, escaped to safety. She discovered the keys of the car in the coat pocket and before the garage burned was able to drive her car to safety.

The investigation was started after Mrs. Way reported to Forest Ranger H. I. Snider, who headed the forest service fire suppression crew in battling the flames, that a few days ago she discovered two strange men in the yard, one apparently attempting to enter the house while the other stood near the highway where they had a car parked.

Mrs. Way said she asked the man near the house what he wanted and he insisted upon going in despite her protests that she did not want him to enter the building. This reluctance on the part of the suspect, later led officers to believe that the men may have returned and deliberately set the fire. The flames apparently started in the rear of the building and could easily have been of incendiary origin.

Mrs. Way escaped without saving even her glasses or any other personal effects. She went to the home of her friends, Mr. and Mrs. George Pace in Truckee. The Paces were guests at her home the night before the fire and reported that there was nothing at the time they left that might indicate danger. The fire in the fireplace was completely out and no other fires were burning. Wiring was in excellent shape.

Telephone Crews are Working In Hunting Zone

Deer hunters are warned to be particularly careful in hunting in the district between Boca and Crystal Peak. A crew of telephone men is engaged in splicing and laying cable in that area and often carry loads on their backs. While they in no way resemble deer, at a distance they may be fired upon by careless hunters.

MY PLACE IN THE SUN

By PVT. DOUG BARRETT

Editor's Note: Since receiving My Place in the Sun for this week, we have learned that the author is now stationed at Chanute Field, Illinois, from where we anticipate the next issue of his column.

I have at hand the Sierra Sun for September 3 and note thereby that Roy Fletcher Waters, a captain on Truckee's volunteer fire dept. is at last in an armed service. Roy has been trying like mad since December 7 to enlist in first one branch and then another. Minor physical disabilities had held him back but Waters didn't know when to quit and he's in the army now. I can guarantee his services will be used to the fullest and his talents will be given every consideration. Good luck, chum..... Also glad to hear of Phil Kearney from down under. I hope the horse wasn't all they moved out of that stall.

Come on, now folks, one at a time! First I hear that Daryl and Betty Gaiennie are parents again, then, not to be out done, Daryl's sister, Mrs. Ray Sykes is the mother of a son and up come Bill and Irene Englehart with Bill, III. Anyway, to one and all, my best wishes to a happy future in a happy, free America. That is worth fighting for.

Heigh ho, heigh ho, it's back to school I go! I'm leaving Camp Kearn before this appears in print for a technical school at an unidentifed location. If I miss next week, I'm sure my friends will understand and be as understanding as they have been in the past.

There was talk before I left of Bill LaMarr going into the army for a commission. I do not know what the score is on that point but the Army's gain would certainly be Truckee's loss. I realize how vital Bill has become to our community and I hope for the community's sake he will remain. If he should leave, I am confident that he will make a fine soldier.

ROTARIANS HEAR TALK ON BELLS

J. F. Cooper, railway mail clerk, gave an entertaining and instructive talk before the members of the Truckee Tahoe Rotary Club Monday night, illustrating the discussion with a valuable display of bells which he has collected from all parts of the world and upon which he based his remarks. G. E. Hofmann was the program chairman and Lloyd Greene presided. Visiting Rotarians were Stormy Weathers and John Nash of the Loyalton club and Guy Huston was a guest.

The club is planning for a ladies night at Capitol Hall Saturday, September 26.

Visiting Langilles—

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Langille and children from Las Vegas are guests at the H. T. Langille home for a few days before going on to Oakland on business.

Six Injured In Car Crash Near Donner Resort

Local Man Breaks Hip In Bad Accident On Highway 40

Six people were injured, five of them seriously Tuesday night when two cars collided headon at the upper end of Donner Lake. The most seriously injured is Mrs. Helen Gnafski, 32, Rt. 4, Box 2230, Sacramento, who has a fractured skull and other injuries which might prove fatal.

Her husband, John Gnafski, driver of the car was not seriously hurt, it was reported.

The second car involved was driven by Mrs. Nida Geitner, 35, nurse in the Humboldt County hospital at Eureka. Other occupants of the Geitner machine were C. A. Geitner, an oil company employe at Eureka, who suffered serious injuries: George Maxwell, Truckee Southern Pacific Co. employee and Mrs. Vesta Maxwell of 3044 33rd Street Sacramento. All of the injured were taken to a Reno hospital, some in improvised ambulances and two in the Laity ambulance, which was called to the scene.

State highway patrolmen who made the investigation, said the Gnafski car going east was on the wrong side of the highway when the cars crashed. The Geitners had been in Truckee and were returning home with Maxwell, a relative, when the mishap occurred.

George Maxwell, who was one of the victims of the unfortunate accident near Donner Lake last Tuesday night, yesterday observed his 65th birthday in the Washoe Hospital, suffering with a fractured hip, instead of at the home of his daughter in Eureka as the family had planned.

Mr. Maxwell, who has been on the Southern Pacific Company's water service crew here for the past four years, was returning to Eureka with his family after geting a few days leave to celebrate his birthday when the accident occurred.

His friends are hopeful of a fast and complete recovery.

GREATEST NUMBER OF HUNTERS ARE VISITING DISTRICT

The greatest number of hunters ever to frequent this district for the opening day of the deer season had good, bad and indifferent luck here yesterday, although deer were reported plentiful. It was estimated more than 3,000 hunters passed in and out of Truckee during the first two days of the season.

The first deer bagged yesterday.. was validated at the forest service headquarters at 6 a. m. and was shot near Hobart Mills by Manuel Claull of Vallejo. The animal was a 4-pointer but light, weighing only 135 pounds and was a cross between a Rocky Mountain mule and a black tail.

Second to weigh in was a four-pointer killed on Boca Mountain by George Musso of Linden. The buck was validated at the Truckee Sport Shop at 7:30 a. m.

Unusually warm weather and ideal conditions greeted the hunters this year. The number was greatly swelled by the fact that many areas of the state are closed to hunters.

PROPOSAL ON SALE OF DONNER DROPPED

After consideration of a joint purchase with the Sierra Pacific Power Company of Donner Lake, the members of the Truckee-Carson Irrigation District dropped the proposal, it was revealed in a press dispatch from Carson City.

The irrigation company committee reported that the Donner Lake Co. had fixed their price at $150,000. The T. C. I. D. would not consider a maximum higher than $35,000, it was said.

SUCCESSFUL PARENTHOOD

By MRS. CATHERINE CONRAD EDWARDS.
Associate Editor, Parents' Magazine

THREE ASPECTS OF DISCIPLINE

Parents are frequently told, when having difficulty with an unco-operative child, that the best way to win him to greater effort is to make him responsible for certain tasks. The theory is that he either does them and enjoys the benefits or neglects them and suffers the natural consequences.

Now this is in many respects a good theory but unfortunately a lot of parents find that it doesn't work. There are two basic reasons for these failures. One, the child may be too young for the chosen task. Feeding pets, for instance, has too dire consequences if neglected to be handed over to a child under ten without supervision.

The other mistake parents make is in giving children responsibility in cases where what they really want from them is obedience. We shouldn't, for example, give a boy of any age responsibility for keeping snow off the sidewalks in winter or the grass cut in summer. If these are his jobs we should exact obedience in getting them done, for the consequences of their being left undone would be far more unpleasant for the rest of the family than for the boy himself. Icy sidewalks to skate on clear to the door and tall waving grass to run through in summer would please most boys tremendously. They probably think your ideas on the subject just grownup nonsense anyway, with the sole purpose of robbing them of their leisure! Thus the penalty for disobedience here would have to be denying the child something he prizes—such as a fishing trip or Dad's participation in a ball game—because a smooth lawn and clean sidewalks mean practically nothing in his life.

But you can teach a sense of responsibility by having a child take over a project in which he is interested—such as a picnic for his pals—and not stepping in when his interest flags and doing all the work yourself. And you should give him the responsibility, as soon as he is old enough, of caring for his toys, his books, his collection of stamps or stones or what not. If they are lost or broken as a result of his carelessness he should be let do without. On the other hand, you can't give a child responsibility for the care of his clothes, for if he loses cap or gloves in cold weather you wouldn't make him go without replacements at the risk of his health. You can, of course, try to train him through pride in his appearance to value his clothes and to treat them accordingly.

But what we are saying is, that training, obedience and responsibility are three different aspects of discipline and knowing when to use one or the other comes with experience and thinking things through before you start.

WAR JOB FOR ALIENS

There are a million and a quarter aliens of enemy countries in the United States—including 700,000 Italians, 315,000 Germans and 91,000 Japs.

A large number of these aliens are skilled workers and could be valuable in speeding production of war materials. But naturally industrial concerns are hesitant about employing them for fear of sabotage or espionage.

Undoubtedly there are a large number of these aliens who are loyal to this country. Some have sons in our armed forces, some are married to native Americans, many have lived here for more than a generation. And, as far as sabotage or espionage go, many of those convicted so far have been naturalized citizens.

The FBI should thoroughly investigate every enemy alien and perhaps everyone born in an enemy country, but those people should be given jobs in our factories when their loyalty to this country is established. When an investigation has determined this, they could be given certificates showing that they are "certified" as friendly aliens and then permitted to hold war production jobs.

EVERYBODY ISN'T RICH

When we hear stories about how rapidly the incomes of the people of this country are rising, many of us, who have not benefited by this war-made prosperity, wonder why we have been passed by.

But an analysis of present incomes in all sections of the country, made by Dr. George Gallup, shows that there are 61 per cent of us who are making no more money than we did six years ago. The other 39 per cent have increased their income considerably, but even with the greatest total prosperity this country has ever had, about half of the nation's families have an income under $35 a week and only 20 per cent of the families get $60 or more a week.

So if your income hasn't risen there may be some comfort in the fact that there are still plenty of others in the same boat. And 15 per cent of the people are earning less than they did six years ago.

ALL CITIZEN ARE URGED TO REGISTER FOR NOV. ELECTION

All citizens of California who are not yet registered are strongly urged to act before Septemeber 24 when registration closes for the general election on November 3.

The appeal to citizens to make sure of their registration is issued by 18 state-wide ogranizations which have joined in a campaign to bring about the maximum possible registration of voters before September 24.

In addition to the names of candidates for important offices, the November ballot will carry 18 propositions upon which the opinion of the electorate is needed, the sponsoring organizations point out. Therefore it is of the utmost importance that the decisions on candidates and propositions be made by a truly representative vote of the people of California.

Attention is called by the sponsoring organizations to California's permanent registration law. Unnder this law, the registration of a citizen who failed to vote at either one of the elections in 1940—the primary or the general election—has been cancelled for failure to vote. If he voted on either occasion, his registration remains in force. Citizens who have moved since last registering must reregister. And citizens who have never registered can do so if they will complete, on November 3, one year of residence in the state, 90 days in the county and 40 days in the precinct.

It is also necessary to reregister if a party change is desired.

Hunters Warned About Fires In Forest During Present Deer Season

NEVADA CITY, Sept. 17.— Hundreds of California hunters are visiting the Tahoe National Forest and the demand for campfire permits has greatly increased. Forest Supervisor Guerdon Ellis pointed out that General DeWitt's recent order lifting the ban on open campfires in the Tahoe area does not in any way modify the strict forest service regulations governing the use of fires in the forest. Ellis advised hunters to use improved campgrounds where regulation tables and stoves are available. Where this is not possible it is imperative that all inflamable material be removed from a space ten feet in dameter before lighting the fire. Ellis further states that the most important phase of camping is the extinguishing of the campfire.

There are many cases on record, according to Ellis where forest users have thrown the remains of the breakfast or a small pan of water on a fire only to have the smouldering fire rekindle and result in a disasterous blaze.

National Honors Given Tahoe Girl Skier For Sun Valley Ski Marks

TAHOE CITY, Sept. 17.— Miss Kathleen Starratt of Tahoe City this week has received notice that she is one of the three California women skiiers to be awared a national rating. Only 10 women in the entire United States have been accorded this honor, so it is little wonder her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Anderson are proud of her.

Clarita Heath of Pasadena was the first California woman to acquire the A rating some time ago. Named this year also for signal honor was Miss Catherine "Kaki" Henck of Berkeley. The girls receive their marks of distinction on the merits of past skiing performances, Kathleen winning hers on the downhill and slalom races held at the Sun Valley meet in the Rogers Cup competition which is equivalent to the men's Jeffers Cup trophy. Both the Jeffers Cup and the Rogers cup are still on display at Tahoe Inn.

Tahoe Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Malcolm of Tahoe City still continue their lucky angling in the lake although little luck is reported from other sources. Saturday Jack brought in a nice ten and a half pound mackinaw and Sunday he repeated with a neight pounder, Mrs. Malcolm trailing with three smaller beauties weighing respectively 2, 3 and 5 pounds.

Bobby Scates and Bud Jones, local horsemen, have already numerous parties packing into the back country for the deer season. Enthusiasm is running high this year due perhaps to restrictions in other areas and nearly all local males able to tote a gun are planning on joining the Big Parade at the crack of dawn. Shells are proving hard to get and those with ammunition on hand are considered especially lucky. Woe unto the unwary buck.

Residents of the Timberland Tract in the Sunnyside district for some weeks past have complained of the deer which boldy invade their gardens, neatly trimming all tender green plant tops, regardless of their rareness. Families thus bothered include the Earl Wallaces, the Chester McDonalds, Mrs. John Reedy and the Ralph F. Walkers, all of whose gardens have frequently been annihilated from time to time. Bucks, does and fawn have been seen often in this region browsing boldly within sight of the busy highway.

Tahoe Kwikies

Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Zimmerman who recently purchased the Helen Slater estate on the lake shore in the Sunnyside district have bought an additional 100 feet north of their property. The family has enjoyed most of the summer here and made many improvements during their stay

Over their recent illnesses and back in circulation once more are Mrs. Carl Bechdolt, Jr., and Mrs. Glenn Sweeney.

The lake level Monday morning stood at6228.07 with 452 CSF of water leaving the gates. Scattered thunder and rain storms visited various parts of the lake over the past week with one small fire on the 12th started in the vicintny of Deer Park by lightning. No amage was done according to Mr. Sieckert of the Tahoe Public Camp fire crew.

The Tahoe City volunteer fire department headed by Chief Joe Henry had another surprise fire drill the first of the week, with a smaller turnout than previously, but those in attendance proved capable and efficient. The town's hydrants, seven in all, were thoroughly tested with especial attention given leaky washers and the like. Those answering the call beside Chief Henry were Mrs. Marie Henry, John Burns, Jack Starratt, Clarence Vernon and Al Henry, Jr., a visitor at the lake.

The airplane contest sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Walker of Kansas City at Tahoe, has been extended until the end of the week, according to Constable Harry Johanson, at which time it is hoped the judges will be available. The schoolhouse will be the scene of the judging and awarding of prizes.

All America Knows Budweiser... but Few Know This

FROM GLACIERS TO GLIDERS

Thousands of retailers of ice cream and frozen foods are using equipment made by our Refrigeration Division—a manufacturing activity which was developed from our years of experience in making ice in glacier-like quantities needed for the brewing of Budweiser.

This equipment is helping to keep America's foods fresher and more nutritious.

Today, however, orders for ice cream and food cabinets will have to wait, for this Division is working all-out on glider wing and fuselage assemblies for our Army Air Forces.

Year after year, we have striven with research and resources to better the methods and facilities for brewing Budweiser. To do this, a laboratory specializing in fermentology and nutrition was necessary. Discoveries made in the laboratory and in the plant have led to the development of products contributing to human necessity and progress. Some of these products would appear to have only a remote relationship to brewing, yet, they are the result of scientific research into many allied fields.

Endless research in making the world's leading beer has led to other products

VITAMINS, B COMPLEX—Our plant is one of the world's largest sources for manufacturers of pharmaceutical and food products.

VITAMIN D—Anheuser-Busch produces enough of the basic material for Vitamin D to supply the entire American market.

BAKER'S YEAST—We are one of America's biggest suppliers of standard and enriched yeasts and malt syrup used to make bread.

CORN SYRUP—many millions of pounds annually for America's candy industry.

SYRUPS—for food, table and confectionery uses and special syrups for medicinal purposes.

STARCH—for food, textile, paper and other industries—millions of pounds annually.

VITAMINS FOR LIVESTOCK—We are America's biggest supplier of yeast vitamins used to fortify animal feeds.

DIESEL ENGINES—Adolphus Busch, founder of Anheuser-Busch, acquired the first rights to manufacture this revolutionary engine in America and thus started our great Diesel industry on its way.

INDUSTRY AND BUSINESS AFTER THE WAR

Every American knows that the manufacture of automobiles has ceased for the duration of the war.

The great automobile industry which in 1940 produced and sold more than 3½ million cars, has been re-tooled to produce airplanes, guns, tanks and munitions of war. Where will these companies get the money necessary to resume the manufacture of automobiles when the war is ended?

The automobile industry happens to be important, and there are thousands of smaller industries which will also face the same problem.

What will the millions of workers do when the demand for war machines stops?

What will happen to the domestic market for farm products when those millions of war workers no longer have jobs?

The stage seems set for an even worse depression after World War II than we suffered after World War I unless right now we start to plan about these surpluses.

It is comforting to learn that Congress is now considering some plan to prevent, or at least to ease, any after-the-war depression.

War Profits for Peace-Time Recovery.

The best plan seems to contemplate the dedication of a portion of war profits for the purpose of providing industry with the ready cash on hand to quickly change to peacetime activity and thus lessen the shock to manufacturing and agricultural surpluses when the war is ended.

A Recovery Bond program has been suggested whereby each industry, big and little, will be required to invest at least 20 per cent of its war profits in Recovery Bonds which do not bear interest until the war is ended and which cannot be sold by the purchaser until peace is declared.

Such a plan would build, at the rate of almost a billion dollars a year, a huge recovery reserve to convert war industries to peace production, launch new products and maintain employment. It would place this reserve immediately and automatically in the hands of those businesses and industries with the greatest after-the-war needs.

The moment peace is declared the "time lock" automatically releases this recovery reserve, the bonds become negotiable and begin to draw interest. Purchasers holding them will then treat them like any other Government bonds, to be sold or used to borrow money. There would be no waiting for a post-war Congressional appropriation, no red tape, and no delay in launching the business and industry offensive that may turn threatened depression into unrivaled prosperity.

The plan is simple, practical and fair.

During late years science and research have discovered many new uses for present major farm crops and many new crops which can be used in industry. A plan of this character places immediately in the hands of industry the resources which can be used to finance further research and to plan for the conversion of surplus crops, surplus factory buildings and the employment of war workers in new and useful enterprises whenever this war shall cease and normal peacetime industry, business and agriculture shall be resumed.

This problem deserves the thoughtful consideration of every American. If we can have the assurance of reasonable security in the after-the-war recovery period we can throw ourselves into an all-out effort to win the war and feel that by so doing we have secured "the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."

TOOL USERS AND TOOL OWNERS

In a recent advertisement signed by a well-known business concern, this statement appeared: "My boss has 14 Grand tied up in me."

What that slangy use of words meant was that the average employee in industry represents a capital investment—in property, plant, machinery and equipment—of $14,000. In other words, labor has jobs only when some business man, or group of investors, puts up the money necessary for the creation of jobs.

It was well said recently, by a student of economics, that men in governmental authority too often forget that while the rights of workers are being considered, the owner of the tools used by workers must also have some consideration.

After this war is over, the plants now devoted to military needs must be re-converted to peace-time activity; must be re-tooled for the kind of production they were engaged in when it became necessary to tool up for war. Labor will expect peacetime jobs then, but somebody must provide the money for re-converting and re-tooling. That money cannot be forthcoming unless enough profits or capital can be stored up to meet such requirements.

The First Job

Americans are impatient people, says the Farm Journal. Impatience never won a war. Soundly planned action, backed by enough power, wins victories. The job now is not to remake America, but to save it.

FLOWER DISPLAY AT TAHOE PROVES BEVY OF BEAUTY

TAHOE CITY, Sept. 17.— One of the loveliest flower shows ever staged by the pupils of the Tahoe Lake grammar school was held in the school auditorium Monday afternoon under the guidance of the teachers, Mrs. Myrtle Gallinger, Mrs. June Dyer and Mrs. Bliss Hinkle. A large group of parents and visitors attended during the afternoon hours. Delicious cookies and hot coffee were served.

The exhibition differed this year from other previous shows with wide strips of wrapping paper laid upon the floor in circular design, lined with potted plants, bouquets and native plants to simulate garden walks. A profusion of variety and color greeted the visitors' eyes, with many of the displays bearing the touch of the expert.

Although a little late in the season to include all of the varieties of flowers grown in the Lake Tahoe area there were represented gracefully fashioned bouquets of giant Marconi, Shasta and white chiffon daisies, French marigold in several shades, small and giant zinnias in all hues, yellow goldenglow, goldenrod, asters, plain and ruffled, fuchsias, snap dragons, all colors, lovely roses, phlox, blue salvia, ruffled and plain petunias, nasturtium, deep purple double flowered stock, blue cornflower, dollar plants, salpiglossis, white and red geranium and red ivy geranium, wild pine drops, Michaelmas daisies, red cockscomb, carnations of various colors and varieties, Siberian lily, giant ruffled pansies in every shade, Iceland poppies, mullen, gilardias and a few whose names we didn't know.

Among the visitors and exhibitors was Mrs. J. E. Morgan whose lovely home graces the slope on the mountain side at Homewood. Mrs. Morgan has been for the past three years recording secretary of the California State Federation of Garden Clubs and is an enthusiastic gardener.

Among the spectacular bouquets were those arranged by Mrs. Rose Boyiaredes in silver vases, the flowers being all exceptionally large and beautiful with color and arrangement well balanced. Altogether it was a delightful display.

Politically Speaking

by JOHN W. DUNLAP
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 17.— (UP)— Four and a half million copies of official arguments on the 18 propositions which will appear on the general election ballot November 3 are being run off in the state printing plant and soon will be in the hands of the voters.

For those whose tases run to such literature the 55-page handbook, required by law, is jam packed with information.

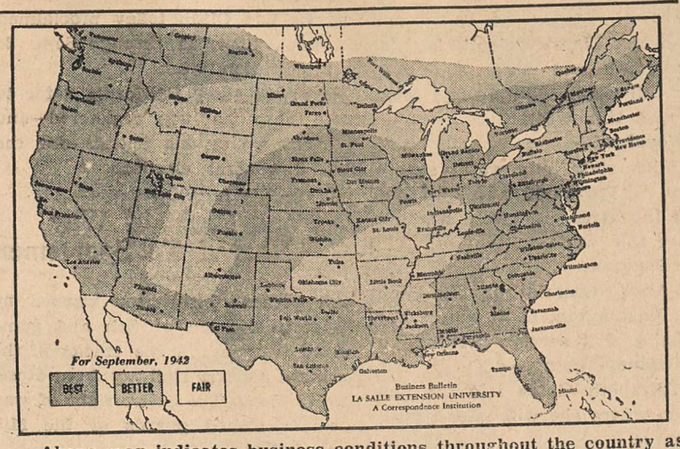
Heading the list of propositions, as it will on the official ballot, is the referendum on the act passed by the legislature over Governor Culbert L. Olson's veto in 1941 to ban "hot cargo" strikes and secondary boycotts as weapons in labor disputes.

If the legislature's act is upheld, such practices would be barred in California for the duration of the war. It would allow persons injured by such practices injunction and damages.

The act defines "hot cargo" as the combination or agreement resulting in employer's or employee's refusal to handle goods or perform services because of another employer's labor dispute or contract. "Secondary Boycott" is defined as a combination or agreement to cease performing services or cause any employer loss to induce him to refrain from business with another employer because of the latter's labor dispute.

State Senators William P. Rich of Marysville and Frank L. Gordon of Napa county in writing the arguments in favor of the referendum measure.

Victory on the Farm Front



Above map indicates business conditions throughout the country as analyzed in the article appearing herewith.

By L. G. ELLIOTT
President, La Salle Extension University.

American farmers have met the challenge and have won a major victory on the important food production front. They are harvesting the largest crops they have ever produced, as well as turning out the largest amounts of dairy, livestock and poultry products. They have achieved these results in spite of labor shortages, some unfavorable weather in some parts of the country, and other difficulties.

Much of the credit for the splendid showing of the American farmer in meeting emergency demands, belongs to the wives, daughters, and young sons of farmers who work side by side with the men in the fields. The sight of farm wives, 'teen-age girls, and schoolboys driving tractors, planting, cultivating and harvesting the vital crops has been no novelty on the farms of America during the past season.

An important contributing factor, of course, is the high degree of mechanization which farms have attained this year. Every farmer made a special effort the early part of the year to put his farm machinery in topnotch condition, and every piece of farm machinery saw double duty this year.

High Goals Reached.

Even the very high production goals which were set this year have been surpassed in many lines. In those places where the goals were not quite reached output has been much higher than it was a year ago and, in most cases, higher than ever before. Farmers can justly be proud of what they have accomplished in the face of handicaps.

Total production of food will be 9 per cent more than it was in 1941 and 25 per cent greater than the average during the period from 1934 through 1939. This large output was produced without a corresponding increase in the number of acres used. Yields per acre have been 6 per cent higher than in any previous year, and about 28 per cent higher than the average. They indicate not only favorable growing conditions, but also better farm engineering and management, greater attention to soil building and conservation, more intensive farming and superior methods of cultivation, as well as better selection of seed.

Many Striking Gains.

Farm products of which the production goals are being reached or surpassed, include cattle, hogs, milk, eggs, and many of the important vegetable-oil crops. Most striking gains have been made in fruits, soybeans, peanuts, flaxseed, barley, rice, sugar beets, and canning vegetables. Some of these crops are 50 per cent larger than last year.

More cattle are on farms and ranches than ever before, with much of the increase in feeder cattle throughout the great central plains of the West and Middle West. Pastures have been in excellent condition in most of the country. The hay crop has been far above average, even though some of it has been damaged by rains and by delays in harvesting because labor was scarce.

The feed situation is the least encouraging side of the farm picture. As a consequence of larger herds of cattle and an increase of nearly 25 per cent in the number of hogs this year, corn has been used at a faster rate than it is being produced. Unless substitute feeds are found, next year will see a shortage of corn for feeding purposes. If the transportation problem of moving some 25,000,000 bushels of wheat from the producing areas to the stock-raising regions can be solved, this would go a long way toward relieving the feed outlook.

Output of meat, milk, and eggs is sure to remain high. Farmers are raising 20,000,000 more hogs than they did last year. The increase is close to 25 per cent. The number of laying hens has increased 14 per cent, and egg production during the first seven months was at a new peak, with 100 eggs per layer. Milk production has also established a new record due to the number of milk cows as well as unusually good pastures and ample feed.

Farm Income Up.

While farmers have been doing their part in the war effort by producing these larger quantities of foods and other products that are urgently needed, they have also increased their incomes. Monthly cash income received by farmers has averaged about 40 per cent higher than it was last year. Income from livestock and livestock products has increased slightly more than income from crops. A substantial part of this additional income must be paid out in increased cost of labor and materials, but the net income remains higher than it has been for many years.

Production goals for next year are being set even higher than they were this year, and farmers are preparing to meet them. Farmers are determined to do their best in supplying the much larger food requirements of civilian consumers and the military forces both here and abroad, as well as the greater needs of other countries which depend on us.

Retail trade in rural areas remains high, but the volume has been reduced by curtailment of production of certain consumer articles. This is a condition which will be aggravated with the passing of the months as more and more items go off the market. However, serious shortages of essential consumer articles are not expected, and the small town and rural retailer can anticipate a steady volume of business on these items.

Manufacturing continues to turn more and more to war production with 50 per cent of all output consisting of materials and munitions of war. The national industrial payroll index has risen to 194 and indications are that wages will continue to rise gradually as the tempo of war production is increased.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

THE SIERRA SUN

characterized it as a wartime measure designed:

1.—To prevent interruption of essential industry during the war emergency for the satisfaction of the questionable motives of certain so-called labor leaders.

2.—To secure American workmen against industrial disputes with which they are not directly concerned.

3.—To curb for the duration in the public interest the abuse of excessive powers assumed by labor "leaders."

Proponents contended the bill would "outlaw for the duration of the war an 'unsound weapon' which is 'nothing but a racket.' "

They asserted it would not interfer with labor's right to strike, picket bargain collectively or engage in the practices of precepts of legitimate trade unionism and would not compel any man to work against his will.

"If honest labor's pledge to refrain from stoppages during the war emergency is kept," said the proponents, "this law need never be invoked. If such pledges are kept, this law should be, MUST BE, available.

"Proposition No. 1 is a vertible slave bill in that it would compel employees to work against their will" said the opposing argument writers, President C. J. Haggerty of the California State Feeration of Labor: Edward D. Vandeleur, federation secretary and J. W. Buzzell, seceratry Los Angeles Central Labor Council.

"This would introduce into the state of California a condition of involuntary servitude which is contrary to both federal and state constitutions, and which was abolished many years ago by Abraham Lincoln. This new form of slavery is even more extensive in that it applies to persons of all races, colors and creeds."

The opponents contended the bill is unconstitutional, asserting that Attorney General Earl Warren had questioned its legality while it still was before the legislature. They also asserted that Legislative Counsel Fred Wood also had ruled the bill was unconstitutional in part.

Publication of the offical pamphlet was delayed by actions questioning legality of the initiative constitutional amendment proposing repeal of the personal income tax act. The state supreme court, however, permitted it to be placed on the ballot.

State Printer George Moore said that condensation of the official pamphlet saved 500,000 sheets of paper, amounting to $5,000.

CHICO FIELD, Sept. 17.— Age limits for direct enlistment in the Army Air Forces as aircraft mechanic or radio technicians have been extended to between 18 and 50 years, it has been announced here at the recruiting office. Previously the age limit has been 44 year and physical requirements were the same as the regular army enlistments.

Authority has been granted for accepting men in limited service groups, such as the selective service classification 1-B, which includes men with slight physical defects.

Under the new recruiting program, automotive mechanics, household appliance service men, electricians, jewelers, watchmakers and others with mechanical training will be enlisted as privates in the Air Forces, sent to a techinal training school and then assigned to airplane maintenance organizations. Requests may be made for assignment to particular fields which holds out the possibility of residents in the vicintiy of Chico being returned to the basic training school here.

Initial pay is $50 per month, plus clothing, food, shelter and medical care, with the opportunity to advance through ability and aptitude to noncommissioned grades with proportionate pay increases.

Hunters Asked To Be On Alert for Jap Fires

In view of the recent incident in which a Japanese seaplane dropped incendiary bombs in the state of Oregon, Supervisor Guerdon Ellis has asked that all hunters be particularly alert. Ellis requests that hunters go immediately to all smokes they observe. Upon arrival at the fire a line or ditch should be dug around the fire allowing the center to burn out.

Should a bomb or any type of incendiary device be observed it is recommended that it should not be disturbed or molested, awaiting the arrival of forest officers.

The Tahoe National Forest could be vulnerable to attack from the air and should such an attack occur it would require the combined efforts of all sportsmen to conserve the natural resources, Ellis said.

Telephone Lines Are the Busiest In History

You Can Help Us to Help You

We want you to know that we are meeting the war emergency with everything we have, but in these critical times delays are bound to occur.

In speeding Victory, the telephone lines are busier—far busier than ever before. We cannot plan and build new lines and new switchboards, as we normally would, because copper and other strategic materials have gone to war in planes, tanks, and guns.

Unnecessary and needlessly long telephone calls should be out for "the duration." War calls must be given the green light.

Your considerate thoughtfulness in making only the most urgent calls is inspiring to all of us who are earnestly endeavoring to uphold the finest traditions of telephone service. May we also ask you to help us further to help you by being brief on all calls, by calling by number when making long distance calls, and by answering calls promptly.

Thank you.
